

WHAT?

Our project’s main objective is to create sustainable mechanisms and opportunities for socialization and integration of children and young people with health problems, who are at risk or from different marginalized communities, from socially disadvantaged or incomplete families. The number of children and young people with disabilities is steadily increasing, and this trend is driven by the economic and social conditions in the different countries, by the worsening climate of public relations, and sometimes the lack of adequate policies for impact and provision of real conditions for social integration.

In this sense, the overall objectives of the project are related with the fulfillment of our mission and with the mission of the European Solidarity Corps to support children and young people in difficult positions and creation of opportunities for their socialization and integration in the European society through the development and realization of their personal potential for equality and non-discrimination.

- Building competences, development and awareness of the knowledge and experience that volunteers will gain from participating in the project, the personal and professional orientation of the volunteers and creating opportunities for their expression;
- Promoting volunteering and music as forms of socialization and improving the quality of life of local communities;
- Enhancing intercultural dialogue and building tolerance and empathy for differences through mutual recognition and respect for different cultures and traditions;
- Familiarity with and implementation of the principles of solidarity at national and European levels;
- respect for human dignity, shared responsibilities and mutual support, building a just and equitable society.
